Defendant's motion to continue was allowed. The new trial date is 10/7, we will send out a new notice. Like I said, chances are this will work itself out short of trial, but as soon as I know for sure, I'll let you know.

Thank you.

Joe

The only trial dates that I have so far during October or November are October 14, October 19, and October 20.

Thanks for the heads up.

Hi Sonja,

I wanted to give you an update on the [REDACTED] case, which is scheduled for trial on Wed. 6/23 in Pittsfield. Defense counsel has filed a motion to continue the case (the motion will be heard Monday). Even better however, there is a strong chance that this case may be able to be worked out short of trial. If the motion is allowed on Monday, I'll make sure to e-mail you to give you an update. The continuance will probably be until October or November. Are there any days in those months that you would be unavailable (again, I think this case is likely to plea prior to trial, however I just want to be prepared in case that falls through and we ultimately have to litigate it)?

I hope all is well.
